Love your local farmers' markets!

It starts with the color green. Lots of shades of green. Then you start noticing little pops of pink, white and red from the radishes, orange from the carrots and yellow from the lemons. Pretty soon colors of red overtake the green, when baskets of strawberries finally arrive, then the fleeting cherries, and finally...FINALLY the tomatoes are here. This rainbow explosion of color at our summer farmers' markets is better than any visual effect. It is worth taking a minute to just stop, look around and absorb the vibrant scene. These edible hues won't last forever. Pretty soon it will all be green again.
