LOVE YOUR LOCAL FARMERS’ MARKETS

For folks back east, musky-scented narcissus blossoms are a sure sign of spring, but we have those even in the dead of winter. So what do we West Coasters have to signal springtime? Strawberries! They are the star attraction, at least the ones that get the most acclaim. What else? Peas! Asparagus! Rhubarb! Artichokes! And so much more. Let’s celebrate the new colors and smells and feels at the market, awakening our palates to these tart, fresh, grassy flavors of the spring season once more.
